

Carolina Wholesale Group Announces the combination of Arlington Industries, Carolina Wholesale, and Digitek into one new and improved ARLINGTON

The new unified Arlington brings with it over 100 years of industry wholesale experience.

Charlotte, North Carolina, November 12, 2018 - Carolina Wholesale Group ('CWG'), the parent company of Arlington Industries, Carolina Wholesale Office Machines, and Digitek announced today that effective January 1, 2019 they will be combining all three distribution brands to form ARLINGTON. The combination of sales & marketing forces, distribution network, and programs will provide resellers of these three strong brands more focused resources and programs to succeed.

Carolina Wholesale Group purchased Arlington Industries in 2004 and Digitek Computer Products (now Digitek) in 2016. CWG previously retained separate branding and independent sales teams in place to support each company's strengths. While doing this over the past fifteen years, CWG has combined product selection, distribution centers, and most internal operations to strengthen each brands offering to their partners. Now the new ARLINGTON will combine the strengths of each brand into one super-distributor that can provide enhanced offering of solutions, services, and programs to their resellers in focused single-brand partnership with their resellers.

"We are excited to bring a more-focused approach to our channel and address the needs of our reseller partners in more unified manner as ARLINGTON," states Larry Huneycutt, Owner/President of Carolina Wholesale Group. "While our new combined brands will provide more robust, focused offering of services to our resellers, we will continue to uphold the high standards of service and integrity our customers and vendors have come to expect from us."

The current employees of Arlington Industries, Carolina Wholesale, and Digitek will comprise the workforce behind the new ARLINGTON. "Our top priority is making the new Arlington brand a smooth transition for our current employees, resellers and partners. We believe our customers will benefit immediately from combination of our talented employees and the new programs we'll be introducing in 2019," added Mr. Huneycutt.
